POLICE TO WATCH FOR HALLOWE'EN PRANKS OF BOYS

One of the advance notices of contemplated Halloween pranks which has caused the police and Rapid Transit Company considerable concern is a report that a gang of boys have planned to grease the rails of the Manoa valley line. The plot has been reported to Chief McDuffie of the detectives, who will have a crew of plain-clothes men patrolling the track. Any boys caught attempting such a trick will suffer severely, he says.

Sheriff Rose has issued instructions to mounted policemen on duty tonight to disperse any gangs of boys that congregate and to be especially watchful for vandals.

"We have never had any particular trouble with the boys here," says Deputy Asch, "although they know the usual Halloween pranks, such as running off with buggies and changing gates. Thank the Lord both gates and buggies are getting scarcer every year."

The rail-greasing "stunt" did call to the deputy's mind, however, the Halloween in 1904, when the trick nearly proved disastrous for him when he was motorman for the Rapid Transit Company.

"I was going up the hill," he says, "and struck it full speed, but in a moment I was coming back down with my power pulling up. If I had been coming down the hill when I struck the grease possibly I would be going yet."

MADAME LESTER

SOME LANDLORDS OF IWILEI VICE WOULD 'LAY LOW'

Commotion and concern have been created in Iwilei by the activities of citizens in endeavoring to close resorts in the ill-famed district. Information which has reached the Star-Bulletin shows that some of the women are planning to get out, but that others, though alarmed, feel that their vice landlords will protect them from law and order.

Some of the women have received notices from their landlords to close up; many more are daily expecting such notices and a large number have assumed a defiant, fighting spirit following alleged advice from the owners to "lay low and quiet" but to "stick."

Some inmates have been in Iwilei for years and know of no other place to go; others who came here recently are already packing for a trip to the mainland. A few plan to live uptown.

Landlords who have ordered their tenants to move have allowed a month in which to do so but have ordered that their places shall be dark to visitors after November 1. Several of these tenants are preparing to obey the order.

Nearly 35 Japanese women in one large house have already moved away from Iwilei. Not being citizens of America they were afraid to make theirs a test case in fear of deportation.

Several girls who have received no notification to quit their premises but who have heard of others receiving such orders are wondering just what to do. Many of these declare they will not leave until an order is given either by their landlords or by the sheriff.

TALK NUMBER NINE

The Straight Ticket

Mr. Independent Voter: You now know something of the Democratic National Platform and the underlying principles of the party. You know what President Wilson has stood for; what he has had to contend with; what he has accomplished. It's a fine record—64 big achievements, all in your interest as an American citizen. He has carried out his party pledges. He has kept international peace honorably. America is satisfied. Hawaii never more prosperous.

Nearly everybody says Wilson will be reelected. If we could vote for president in Hawaii he would get your vote. You are independent.

Now there is the Delegate. You can vote for him. We favor L. L. McCandless. He will stay on the job. Of course Kuhio is running again—the 7th time. Two years ago his own party spent a huge sum to "beat Kuhio" in the primary. More than three thousand Republicans didn't want him to run. They showed up his record (you remember what they said) but they nearly all voted for Kuhio in the "show down." They weren't independent—then, but doubtless are now. Don't forget that big "vote of protest" in the last primary. Any way you can vote for McCandless.

There are the Senators, an American, a Portuguese and a Hawaiian. Don't forget the Hawaiians. This country once belonged to them. They only expect fair representation now. The Republicans forgot them in their primary. The second on the ticket is a former supervisor, is an artisan by trade. Everybody respects him on his public record. He is fearless—also independent. The third is a businessman and seeks reelection to the senate. He expects your vote on his record. You can't beat these three candidates.

Then there are the Representatives, six of them in the Fourth District. American, Portuguese, Hawaiian again—just as it should be in Hawaii. Capitalist, artisan, laborer—everybody represented. That's Democracy; that's fair play. All from A to W are pledged to support the platform, and that means a lot. Can you beat that combination to represent you and everybody in your district? Now if you are really independent
